1.	I was surprised to not see the executive director in attendance in the room. There were many ideas being discussed which may change the direction of the SSBA and it would be fair to assume that he would be involved in leading the change. Listening to the voices of the membership and being involved in the discussion would be of benefit to his position.
2.	This Members Council was much better geared to the current issues. We were able to share some good information and give positive direction. I am concerned about the absence of our Executive Director during the discussions on Friday. As the top employee of the association, he should be present to hear what direction the members are giving the president. Is it not his role to support the president and executive?
3.	Jeff's presentation was well done but maybe too much detail for this audience.
4.	Thank you, this was my first meeting and I was impressed, felt welcomed and engaged.
5.	Unless a Minister is prepared to say something concrete in their address, they may as well stay home. That time could have been used more productively. We didn't need to be lectured or told what we needed to do - that showed a total lack of respect for the intelligence in the room. I hope the inability to develop one point of view (as attested to by the lengthy discussions that were full of a variety of opinions) really showed the executive that this diversity requires local representation. Any further attempts to shift governance toward equality or sameness or the Minister or the Ministry are doomed to failure.
6.	Thank you to the SSBA Staff for all the organization and planning of the Member's Council.
7.	Meeting should be started on time.
8.	Meeting should be started on time.
9.	I found this Member's Council to be very proactive with a lot of open and frank dialogue.
